Dear Customer,

This message is to advise that Cox Communications has received a notice claiming that you are using your Cox High Speed Internet service to post or transmit material in violation of U.S. Copyright law. We have included a copy of the complaint, which identifies the party raising it and the material claimed to be infringing.

We ask that you review the complaint and, if it is valid, promptly remove or disable access to the infringing material. If you disagree with the claims in the notice, you should contact the sender, and not Cox, to resolve the matter.

As an Internet Service Provider, Cox is responsible, under the Digital Millennium Copyright Act ("DMCA"), to advise when we receive a notice asserting infringement by you. We are also required to take appropriate action if further claims are received that you do not resolve.

The material that you post or share online is your responsibility. Cox encourages responsible Internet use, but we do not monitor nor control the information you share. We have a duty, however, to take progressive steps when we received complaints of infringement.

If we continue to receive infringement claims such as this one, concerning your use of our service, we will suspend your account and disable your Internet connection until you confirm you have removed the infringing material.

To learn more about your responsibilities concerning copyrighted material, please refer to our help article at: <http://ww2.cox.com/PeerToPeerNetworks>

Ah – thanks for putting the pieces together – I guess in my mind I was thinking about CATS but I didn't realize today that we had the progressive steps all the way to termination...

Just for my education can you send me examples of our notification emails...doesn't have to be every one...just a couple...

Thx!

Hello Gentlemen,

Cox has had a policy on this ever since I can remember and we have always enforced it. We have a more liberal strike policy that we enforce. They use the number 6, we are around 10 before termination. We only terminate 5 to 6 people a year and if they call me and start crying and begging, I feel bad and turn them back on.

It starts with several warnings, then quarantine, then a strong lecture and if needed, termination.

Lucky, 80% of our customers that share copyrighted material stop by the 2nd warning. At each step we educate them on the illegal activity and our AUP.

At this time, we are not using IBN (in browser) to warn the customer, we use email and our walled garden. That could change, yet our M&P has worked well over the past years so there is no need to add IBN right now.

What this new Copyright Alert system has done, is copy what we have been doing for years with some slight modifications within each ISP.

Randy Cadenhead was part of the discussions surrounding this new system. He helped to mold part of the agreement yet Cox decided not to participate for several reasons; We already had a system in place and working, they wanted customer calls to go to a call center run by a third party beholden to many movie studios, record companies, etc and we were not going to let them have access to our customers or their info and there was a fee that each ISP paid to this third party.

We have worked closely with every large company (HBO, Universal, Warner Bros, etc) to have them digitally sign each complaint. This allows us to automate 90% of the complaints. It is probably higher than 90% but I have not had enough coffee so it was easier to type... ☺

Last month, CATS handled 50670 DMCA complaints, taking action automatically compared to 2409 DMCA complaints that had to worked manually by our teams. We get well over

Does that help? Holler if I have not answered your questions.

COX

Guys – are we moving down this road also? I haven't heard about it...if so, can I get a quick summary/briefing.

thx
